

Rural Learning Summit 2012

Clustering – Collaborating Through Learning Communities

Analysing, Learning, Listening and Exploring

AUG Friday, 17th August 2012
17 Trawool Resort
Near Seymour

The Country Education Project is pleased to invite Expressions of Interest from people and organisations to attend the CEP Rural Learning Summit 2012.

The Rural Learning Summit will explore collaborative approaches through clustering and the potential it can provide in enhancing the learning opportunities and outcomes for rural young people.

CEP is pleased that the DEECD Hume Region and Catholic Education Office, Sandhurst Diocese are working in partnership with CEP in hosting the Summit.

The Hon. Martin Dixon, Minister for Education will be attending the Summit to participate in the discussions.

Focus Areas

- ✓ Analysing the value that clusters can bring to the provision of quality learning within rural communities
- ✓ Learning from past experience, other states, international examples and from research
- ✓ Listening to teachers, education organisations, rural communities and young people
- ✓ Exploring innovative approaches for government, schools and Country Education Project

Places are limited to 70, so register your interest online now!

 cep.org.au/rural-learning-summit-2012

 phil@cep.org.au

 @countryedproj

 0428 171 145

Rural Learning Summit 2012

Background Info

The Country Education Project's annual Rural Learning Summit provides an opportunity for rural education and community leaders to be actively engaged in discussions to support quality learning within rural Victoria.

The Summit will explore the potential that clustering provides in enhancing such learning.

It will especially hear, and learn, from past practice; reflect on current cluster arrangements; identify possible collaborative approaches to support sustainable rural learning communities into the future; and reflect on how such approaches support the current vision for education within Victoria.

The Summit will involve up to seventy people representative of education sectors; government and non government education institutions; and key stakeholder groups within the broader education and rural communities.

AUG
17
Trawool Resort
Comfort Inn Trawool Resort
8150 Goulburn Valley Highway
Trawool (Near Seymour)

Places are limited to 70, so register your interest online now!

 cep.org.au/rural-learning-summit-2012

 phil@cep.org.au

 @countryedproj

 0428 171 145

