*Gifted Resources
News*

Because people tend to choose gifts for others that they would like to receive themselves, this month I am giving you all a Tuit – not just a plain Tuit, but a Round Tuit!

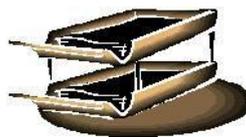

My husband's retirement and our move to Rosebud should have meant that there would be so much more time to do all the things I needed to do, plus all the things I would like to do, plus all the things that I intended to do 'someday'. However my rate of work has decreased and the activities tend to expand to fill all available time. The current Want To Do list includes blog posts, writing an e-book, converting the church school programs and film discussion notes to e-books or similar, updating website, finishing craft projects, quilting, painting, more walks on beach and... and...

So I find I am still saying "I will do that when I get A Round Tuit"

So now that I have dropped a hint about the gift I would like to receive, maybe someone will give me A Round Tuit and just maybe they will also give me an Energy Level Booster

Seminar for Parents and Teachers

Martin Jellinek, Box Hill High School SEAL

The impact of social and emotional issues on the academic outcomes and well-being of gifted learners

Thursday 30 August 2012

7.45pm - 9.30pm

THU
30
AUG

at Southern Community Church of Christ,
Corner Chesterville Road and Pine Street, Cheltenham (Mel ref 86 J1)

Martin Jellinek, Box Hill High School, SEAL Program

Whilst society maintains the position that gifted individuals already have a head start in life and need no extra assistance, we are ignoring the substantial research that indicates that they should actually be classified as a 'special needs' group. If gifted students are provided with their specific requirements, they have the ability to flourish beyond all expectations.

This talk will also address the issue of underachievement.

Martin is the Coordinator of Gifted Education at Box Hill High School and also teaches a number SEAL (Select Entry Accelerated Learning) science classes. Additionally he lectures in the subject of Classroom Strategies in Gifted Education as part of the Masters of Education at the University of Melbourne.

RSVP: Please phone Louise on 0414 578 806 or email admin@giftedsupport.org by Monday 27 August.

MONASH FACT OR FICTION – Tuesday 14 August 2012

As part of Science Week Monash Science Centre is running Fact or Fiction an 80 minute show where the audience watch clips of classic sci-fi hits before individually voting, with hand held devices, on whether the technology featured is actual science fact or pure science fiction.

Once the audience voting has been locked in, scientists from the Australian Nuclear Science and Technology Organisation will critique the science featured in the film and provide the answer.

Fact or Fiction has been designed to be highly entertaining and educational and attract kids that aren't necessarily interested in science by providing them with a big dose of pop-culture. Science areas that are explored include Teleporting, Time Travel, Invisibility, Immortality, Light Sabres, Intelligent Metals, Terraforming Climates and Telekinesis. Age suitability is 8 years and above.

In its only Melbourne shows for 2012, three sessions of Fact or Fiction will be held on Tuesday 14 August at Monash Biomedical Imaging Facility Auditorium, Monash University.

10.00am and 1.00pm – Shows available to primary and high schools

7.00pm – Evening performance available to the general public

Admission to Fact or Fiction by gold coin donation and bookings are essential.

Please call 03 9905 1370 or email science-centre@monash.edu.

Written submissions in support of the review of Monash Science Centre

Hello Friends of the Monash Science Centre

The Monash Science Centre is undergoing a university-based review over the next couple of months to identify our place within the University and our future directions.

We have submitted a self review document, and will be reviewed by an external committee in early September 2012.

Written submissions of support are welcome from interested members of the community and users of the Centre.

Submissions should be emailed to Eileen.Wilson@monash.edu

GLOBAL EDUCATION CONFERENCES

Three great world-wide virtual conferences coming up in the next few months. Each is free to attend, and each has an emphasis on encouraging participation and presentations--even if you've never done so before. They are part of my Web 2.0 Labs projects, designed to provide spaces for great conversations around education. Everyone is encouraged to participate--you can present, attend, and/or volunteer to help!

Learning 2.0 (<http://www.learning20.com>)

August 20 - 24, 2012

Just announced! This conference has a short lead time (right around the corner!), but this is so that it can be part of Connected Educator Month, a month-long set of terrific activities to help educators connect with each other.

Learning 2.0 is a unique chance to participate in a global conversation on rethinking teaching and learning in the age of the Internet. Subject strands include changes in the classroom (social media, 1:1 computing, "flipped classrooms," digital literacy, maker spaces, gaming, open educational resources, digital textbooks), in student learning (individualized learning, student-directed learning, "hacking" education, personal success plans, ePortfolios, and building a digital presence), in teacher personal and professional growth (lead learning, personal learning networks, peer / open / self-directed PD), in schools (virtual and online schooling, mobile learning, blended learning, MOOCs, immersive environments, learning spaces, entrepreneurship, school leadership, big data, assessment models), and in pedagogy (from teaching to learning, social learning, social / educational networking, passion-based learning, learning how to learn, brain-based learning). A full strand list is available HERE.

The conference will also include an all-day virtual unconference (SocialEdCon online!) as well as a special educational start-up "pitchfire" event.

The conference general information page is HERE and call for presentation proposals and instructions for Learning 2.0 can be found HERE.

Library 2.012 (<http://www.library2012.com>)

October 3 - 5, 2012

In its second year, the Library 2.012 conference is a unique chance to participate in a global conversation on the current and future state of libraries. Held over the course of two days (three actual calendar days when including all time zones), there will likely be over 150 presentations. Subject strands include physical and virtual learning spaces, evolving professional roles in today's world, organizing and creating information, changing delivery methods, user-centered access, and mobile and geo-social information environments. A full strand list is available HERE. Huge thank to the School of Library and Information Science (SLIS) at San José State University, the founding conference sponsor!

The Global Education Conference

(<http://www.globaleducationconference.com>)

November 12 - 16, 2012

Celebrating its third year, and co-chaired by the amazing Lucy Gray, this five-day, 24 hour per day incredible event brings together educators and students from around the world to discuss globally-connected education, projects, and activities. It is designed to significantly increase opportunities for building education-related connections around the globe while supporting cultural awareness and recognition of diversity. Last year's conference featured 340 general sessions and 18 keynote addresses from all over the world with over 10,000 participant logins. This year the conference is being run in conjunction with the iEARN worldwide international conference and we're anticipating some 20 - 30,000 attendees.

The conference general information page is HERE and call for presentation proposals and instructions for Learning 2.0 can be found HERE.

Organizations interested in becoming sponsors of the conferences listed above, or of any of the Web 2.0 Labs projects, should email me at steve@hargadon.com directly.

See you online!

ECHA Conference Symposium: Social Media and Gifted Education

Blog post July 19, 2012 by giftedphoenix

The 13th International Conference of the European Council for High Ability (ECHA) is taking place from September 12-15 2012 in Munster, Germany.

One of the sessions is a Symposium on Social Media and Gifted Education. It is scheduled for Thursday 13 September from 14.15 to 15.45 local time, which corresponds to these times elsewhere in the world.

The overarching Symposium Abstract says:

'We will explore:

- the extent to which social media have been applied to gifted education;
- the benefits and the risks that social media can bring, whether for learners, parents, educators or policy-makers; and
- how this field is likely to develop over the next few years.

We will discuss what further collaborative action gifted educators in Europe and beyond might take to capitalise on the potential for social media to build and maintain valuable connections between gifted learners and educators, for the benefit of all involved. Our treatment will be located within research on gifted education and social media respectively, but we will be focused primarily on the development and support of effective practice'.

There are six participants, five of them offering presentations

- Peter Csermely
- Tim Dracup, (Convenor)
- Joan Freeman (Discussant)
- Roya Klingner

- Javier Touron
- Albert Ziegler

Given the focus of the Symposium, it seemed especially important to build in a social media dimension, to illustrate the value added to a traditional conference setting.

So we have agreed that there will be a Twitter session during the final hour of the Symposium. This will involve:

- A link to a special session of Global #gtchat powered by the Texas Association for the Gifted and Talented.
- A special #echa hashtag for this session, which we also hope to use to livetweet from the ECHA conference as a whole (the session will therefore form part of the Conference feed).
- A Twitterwall inside the Symposium, enabling those in the room to project their Tweets to other participants, and those participating at a distance to interact with those in the room.

The abstracts of the five presentations are set out below. As presentations are prepared and published, I will provide links to them from here.

Depending on the progress we make, it may be possible to engage in social media-driven discussion of the issues raised ahead of the Symposium. We can then use those contributions to help frame part of the Symposium proceedings.
